

Planting Calendar

	Jan.	Feb.	Mar.	Apr.	May	June	July	Aug.	Sept.	Oct.	Nov.	Dec.
Apples
Arugula
Beans- Snap
Blueberries
Cabbage
Cantaloupes
Carrots
Collards
Corn- Sweet
Cucumbers
Eggplant
Figs
Grapes- Muscadine
Jujubes
Kale & other greens
Okra
Peaches
Peas- English
Peas- Field
Pecans
Peppers
Persimmons
Plums
Potatoes- Irish
Soybean- Edamame
Squash- Summer
Squash- Winter
Strawberries
Sweet Potatoes
Tomatoes
Turnips
Vidalia Onions
Walnuts
Watermelon

It starts with the soil and the seed. Each season, water, sun, and time turn the bare dirt into a celebration of food and life. Developed by Georgia farmers, this planting guide is a reliable reference for backyard gardeners and farmers alike to know when to plant seeds and transplants in the ground or in the greenhouse.

direct seeding		transplant		transplant & root cuttings
seeding in greenhouse		root cuttings		seeding in greenhouse & transplant
season extension		seeding & transplant		seeding, transplant & root cuttings	